Sunday at 2:20 A. M. an alarm was rung in from Box 34 for a fire on Main street. The Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 and a crew of men gathered, but the Steamer and Hose of the Central station had not returned from Braintree and there was nothing to do but watch the building burn until Hose 4 arrived which was within ten minutes, although it seemed an age.

A third alarm was rung in, and before it ceased Hose 4 and Engineer Newcomb arrived. A line of hose was run from the hydrant near Whitcher's shop and a powerful stream was soon being poured into the building which was now a roaring furnace. The effect of this powerful stream was soon apparent and the flames gradually gave way before it, but it was nearly an hour before the fire was all out and then the building was practically ruined, although much credit is due to Engineer Newcomb and Hose 4.

The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin as this is the second time this same has been fired. The building was valued at $100 and the loss is estimated at $900 which is partially covered by insurance.

At 2:35 o'clock while the fire was still in progress an alarm was rung in from Box 43 and Engineer Newcomb sent the Hook and Ladder, and Hose 3 which had just arrived. The alarm proved to have been in for pure devilry.

An alarm from quarry whistles and Box 46, summoned the fire department to the quarry of Fallon & Sons, on Quarry street, at seven o'clock. Thursday evening. A fire had got a good start in the engine house of the firm and the building was soon burned to the ground. The commanding situation of the works and the time of evening drew a very large crowd to the scene. There was a little excitement from a small explosion, and more when a quantity of oil got on fire which caused a great scampering.

The greatest loss to Fallon & Sons was the machinery, aggregating about $1,200. The cause is thought to be carelessness in the workshop, but it has promptly offered a large reward. After the long labor trouble the loss to the firm comes pretty hard and much sympathy is had for the firm.

Two alarms from box 38 were rung in at 10:35 o'clock Friday for a fire in a large hay stack in the yard of Martin J. Lennon at 89 Centre street. The apparatus from the central station arrived promptly and a solid stream of water soon extinguished the blaze but not before most of the hay had been burned. The loss will not exceed $25. The cause of the fire is unknown but may have caught from a spark from the chimney.

The two alarms with the dense smoke gave the impression that the new school building was on fire and an unusually large crowd collected.

Home Protection.

Chief Ripley has been criticized in some quarters because he sent the Steamer and Hose 1 to Braintree, Saturday night. The critic is the more severe because of the fire here during the absence of the apparatus, and it may be a fact that incendiaries take advantage of such occasions. There is no question, we believe, but our city should respond to all calls, for aid in the adjoining towns, but provisions should be made to protect the city at such times. It would be the same if the apparatus was at Hough's Neck, Squantum, or any of the outlying wards, when a fire broke out in the centre. A mistake was made in not giving the out-of-town calls for the Atlantic Chemical did not come. The Committee is needed, we believe, is a relief here to the Central fire station, and this Chief Ripley has in view when the new station is ready.

We have another suggestion, which is this. When two boxes are pulled for different fires at about the same time, or the second one previous to the recall from the first, that all apparatus not responding to the first shall respond to the second. Saturday night the Braintree call and the two Quincy boxes were pulled about the same time, yet Hose 2 at Wollaston and the Chemical at Atlantic did not respond. Saturday night the Braintree call and the two Quincy boxes were pulled about the same time, yet Hose 2 at Wollaston and the Chemical at Atlantic did not leave their houses. Hose 4 had only hose enough to lay one line. Had there been a lively blaze in West Quincy it is more than probable that Hose 3 might not have had enough even to lay one line. Hose 2 should have gone to Box 43 under the circumstances. However, as it happened it was all for the best, although there was some embarrassment.

It is very grateful to Quincy for the prompt and efficient aid given. It was the only neighbor which did send assistance, and the fact is undisputed that we saved the Holbrook block and prevented a much more serious conflagration. No apparatus went to Braintree's second fire.

First of the Season.

The Republicans will open the campaign in this city this evening with a band concert, flag raising and grand rally. The opening gun will be fired at 7 o'clock when the City band will give a concert in front of headquarters. At 7:15 o'clock, with fireworks, a large and handsome flag will be thrown to the breeze in front of the Adams building.

There will be a grand rally at Hancock Hall, on the corner of the main street, on which the questions of the day will be delivered by Congressman Henry Cabot Lodge and Charles H. Litchman, with music between the addresses by the City Band. Theo. King, Esq., will preside.

As there are always many ladies who like to attend political meetings, the committee have reserved the gallery for their exclusive use with escorts.

As this is the first opening of the campaign in this city everybody is invited to attend.

It is a little amusing to hear the argument raised at the School Committee meeting that a more central location might be found in Ward Four than the Willard school lot for the new house. It was not so when they were advocating the erection of a mammoth sixteen-room school building. When the large addition was made to the Willard school lot it was with the understanding that a part might be sold or utilized for other purposes, and it seems a very desirable location. It would be just as dangerous now for the children if the steamer from its present location should pass the Willard school just as the pupils were dismissed as though it was at the proposed location. As this portion of the lot is not now used, as it is central and owned by the city, and there are few objections, it seems as though the city might economize and use it.

Paul R. Blackman, Esq., who reached this city Saturday, was just twenty-eight days in making the trip from Europe, because of his detention at quarantine. His stay in Europe was an old one about 200 feet long. A space of about 75 feet was reserved for the cabin passengers, so that only a small proportion of them could walk at once. He thinks there was politics in the detention at Fire Island, as the Tammany tiger was being fattened.

Postmaster Adams has made arrangements for Sunday mail. One will arrive at 9 A. M., and the office will be open from 10 to 12 M. The post office will then close for the afternoon.

UNIVERSALIST CONVENTION. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Massachusetts Universalist convention has been held at Cambridge, and large gatherings have attended the meetings. Rev. H. A. Philbrook and wife, delegates, and many members of the society in Quincy were present to listen to able addresses and to take part in the exercises.

The Presidential electors of both parties in this district are from this city. Messrs. Shaw and Quincy face each other before, and the result is in dispute.

A new dress and garment making room will be opened in the Adams building next Monday. Mrs. McCann and Miss Folan are both of experience and invite you to call.

Mrs. Louis AVY of Somerville (nee Florence Saville) made a very pleasant call on us Tuesday, and we are pleased to say, was looking as though she was enjoying excellent health.

Monday morning's severe thunderstorm was succeeded in the afternoon by a violent wind storm. In the evening the wind attained a maximum velocity of 30 miles an hour from the west.

At a meeting of the directors of the Quincy Electric and Power Co., Mr. Fred Austin, the engineer at the station was appointed acting superintendent, vice George A. Vorhees, resigned.

B. N. Adams has sold his pretty place on Elm street to F. H. Crane of Braintree. About a year ago Mr. Crane bought out the grain business of Edward Russell and now are both of experience and invite you to call.

The general impression is that Councilman Warner has succeeded admirably in fulfilling his promise to the City Council in the Spring. In answer to a Councilman, who argued that there were not enough children to fill a new schoolhouse on the New Plains, he said he would agree to fill it.

A Musical Sound.

A brief letter sends us the following:

"Passing through the well-known sound of the stone church, and, still louder, the organ of the Episcopal church, I listened to a musical chime that would bring back again prosperity to the city and its inhabitants. Looking over all past mistakes, employer and employee may resume business with a feeling of unity and interest than ever before, and Quincy can again boast of her industrial future and the many advantages which must follow the grand result of the settlement."

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, OCT. 8, 1892.

Young Men's Christian Assn.

The annual meeting and election of officers will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, commencing at 7:30. The public is invited.

There has been a large attendance at the gymnasium classes during the past week. The boys classes commence at 4:15, on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons, and the Men's classes at 7:45, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. The class work is identical with that given in the Boston Association. Visitors are always welcome.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30, there will be a grand rally of the young men to hear Mr. O. E. Ryther, of Hyde Park, speak on the Inter-Collegiate Young Men's Christian Association. The music on this occasion will be furnished by the Damon family, of Boston, a well-known instrumental quartet of young ladies. They will play for half an hour preceding the address, giving choice selections of sacred music.

Quite a number have signified their intention to be present, and the entertainment will be held Oct. 20 at 2:30. Free admission will be furnished any who may attend, if they will give their names to the General Secretary and receive a delegate's credential. Friday afternoon, which is a holiday, will be devoted to a state athletic meet. It is probable that there will be a foot ball game between the Training school team and the Amherst college team.

Quite a number of the members of the Auxiliary will attend the Auxiliary Conference at Chelsea next Tuesday. There will be papers and addresses on various subjects of interest to members of the auxiliaries. Friday afternoon, which is a holiday, will be devoted to a state athletic meet. It is probable that there will be a foot ball game between the Training school team and the Amherst college team.

The tickets for the star entertainment are now ready for sale and can be secured of members or at the rooms. It is believed that the course is the best offered by the Quincy public for years.

The dates and companies will be found in the advertising columns. Members who desire to attend will present their membership card at the entrance of the room and be provided with an admission ticket. If they desire one or two additional tickets for the entire course this ticket must be presented when the seats are put on sale, and one dollar paid for each seat. The terms to non-members are one dollar and fifty cents for the entire course of six entertainments, including a reserved seat.

The average daily attendance at the rooms during September was twenty-eight, not including the reception, when there were 200; or the Sunday services, the average at which was thirty-three. The total attendance was 1,092. Fifty strangers were shown through the rooms. Eighteen new applications for membership were received.

Carnival of Books.

The Whatsoever and Everyday Sunshine circles of King's Daughters, held a Book carnival and entertainment for the benefit of the Hospital and Young Men's Christian Association at the Congregational church Wednesday evening.

The affair was a great success, was attended by a large audience and will net something like $75.

Dozens of books of the evening those who impersonated bookmen, though the audience to give people an opportunity to guess what books they represented, after which they were arranged upon the platform and the books announced.

The costumes worn were in many cases very unique, and were intended to represent the principal characters in the book and there were so many of them it is impossible to give a description.

Among the books noticed were: Under the Lilac, Mistresses and Men, Bob Boy, Little Men, Little Lord Fauntleroy, Among the Boys, Darkness and Daylight, Pilgrim's Progress, A Long Look Ahead, Don Quixote, Looking Backward, Good Luck, Just as I Am, Essay on Man, Original Bell, Silver Pitchers, Old Curiosity Shop, Old-fashioned Girl, Shawl Straps, and many others.

After the announcement of the books there was an entertainment by the celebrated Peaks sisters, who never fail to please the most exacting audience. There were also several musical selections by Prof. Frank F. Gilbert.

Besides the entertainment there were tables for the sale of home-made confectionery, aprons, etc., which were well patronized.

Q. and B. Experimenting.

Car No. 16 of the Quincy and Boston street railway has been fitted with a life saving device, the patent of R. T. White of Boston. The dasher of the car is an oval shield made of iron. This is to break the blow should a person happen to be on the track. This will throw the man down, who will be scooped into a net in front of the wheels, the front end of which runs within three inches of the rail.

It cannot be said of the Lincoln school appropriation that it was overrun, and more was needed. The appropriation was considered a small one, but it has paid for a building all the furnishings, and a cubed sidewalk, and there is more than $1000 left. It is a credit to the administration.

It would not have cost any more to run the present police department under ordinance than it has without, and while it has been very satisfactory we claim it would be better organized if permanent. The department will cost more next year whether under ordinance or not, therefore let us obtain the best for the money.

The city of Medford is—the 30th in the Commonwealth. There was some opposition to the two-year majority term which made the vote 382 yes to 340 no. Quincy is far from being the youngest or smallest town now as Northampton, Springfield, Newburyport, Marlborough, Worcester, Everett and Medford all have been put on.

The fenders and net in this, a rough model, are made of iron wire in a frame of gas pipe, but should it prove successful they will be made of steel wire springs.

A practical test of the new patent was given in the Square Thursday, and was witnessed by President Whitney of the West End road and other street railway officials and a committee from the Boston board of aldermen.

A dozen men was first placed upon the track, and the car ran against it at full speed, and although the dummy was a poor one, the net did its work well and picked it up. A heavy block of wood was then tried, and while the net did not pick it up it threw it one side, which showed it would be impossible to get a man under the wheels.

Lectures.

Next Sunday evening, Rev. Mr. Philbrook, pastor of the Universalist church, will begin his series of services of special interest to young people. Brief addresses will be given, and the singing will be congregational, led by the church choir. The history of each hymn to be sung will be given by the pastor. Special attention will be given to the writing of the hymns relating to the circumstances under which they were written, will be read. The subject of the address next Sunday evening will be: "The Power of Music."

Must Have Your Name.

We have received an anonymous communication this week, which is signed "Merry Mount," which we would have willingly published if the writer had signed his or her name. We cannot publish articles without knowing who the writers are, and protect ourselves against frauds and imposters.

Only a Sigh.

Box 25, at the corner of Canal and Newcomb streets, was pulled at 5 A. M. Friday, for the burning of a small shed for coal, wood, etc., in the rear of Stephen Neagle's residence on Brackets street. The loss was trifling.

The house occupied by Mr. Neagle is owned by Mr. H. H. Faxon and is being shingled. The carpenter's tools were in the shed and were destroyed.

Pastor Resigns.

Rev. Daniel M. Wilson, pastor of the First church since 1879, has resigned his pastorate to accept a position as Superintendent of the New England Unitarian churches, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. J. C. Moore, D. D., of Greenfield. Mr. Wilson's resignation is to take effect October 1. He will also resign chairman of the board of directors of the Woodward Institute, and president of the Quincy Charitable Society. He will continue to reside in Quincy and still retain an active interest in all movements for the city's welfare.

Mr. Wilson was born in Paisley, Scotland in 1848. He came to this country with his parents when but two years old, they settling in Boston. He was educated in the public schools of that city. He afterwards became a compositor of the Boston Traveller, and then a reporter.

Next he entered the Boston school for ministers, then conducted by Rev. George H. Herworth, Rev. Dr. E. Hale, Rev. H. W. Foote, Rev. C. D. Bradlee and others. He then attended the Harvard Divinity school where he was graduated in 1872.

His first church was the Unitarian church at Melrose, where he was ordained Nov. 15, 1872. Previous to this he had during his vacations, done missionary work in some of the coast towns of Maine, and soon his activity in this direction manifested itself in the organization of the First Congregational Unitarian church of Malden, and in the revival of the Liberal Union church at Stoneham. He took active charge of these two parishes in 1876, resigning the pastorate at Melrose.

In 1876 he was invited to supply the pulpit of the Quincy church, and at the same time received a call to settle over the First Congregational Unitarian church of Bridgewater. He accepted the former and in 1880 was installed.

Rev. Mr. Wilson has made the church an active pastor during his long pastorate, which has had few equals outside that church, although Rev. Edward Norton of the Evangelical Congregational church is now in his twentieth year. The Unitarian church is noted for its long pastorate, as will be seen in the summary that follows:

Settlements. Years.
William Thompson, 1860 to 1866 27
Henry Flynt, 1860 to 1868 29
Moses Fiske, 1862 to 1700 36
Joseph Marsh, 1708 to 1723 16
John Hancock, 1726 to 1774 18
Lemuel Bryant, 1735 to 1800 45
Anthony Whibrd, 1800 to 1845 45
William P. Lant, 1833 to 1867 34
John D. Wells, 1860 to 1870* 15
Daniel M. Wilson, 1880 to 1890* 13

* Resigned.

Eight of the eleven reverend gentlemen have died at their post, Mr. Wilson being the third to resign. With one exception his pastorate is the shortest, but time has changed, and it is not the custom now to remain longer.

The most important work accomplished during Mr. Wilson's pastorate was the building of the beautiful chapel which is now considered indispensable by the Sunday school and numerous auxiliaries of the church. In missionary work he has established a flourishing Unitarian church at Wollaston. We have also found him an active worker in the Quincy Charitable Society, the Associated Charities, in the no-lions movement, the Quincy Village Improvement society, and lately in the Board of Instruction of the Woodward Institute, of which he was chairman by virtue of his relation with the First church.

New Officers.

The second annual meeting of the Quincy Young Men's Christian Association was held in the association rooms. Acting President Dr. Brown occupied the chair. Reports were presented by the various officers and committees, reviewing the work of their various departments for the year.

These reports gave proof that the association had done good work during the first year of its existence. These reports will be published at a later date. Few new associations have made more rapid progress in one year than the local association.

With its handsomely furnished and thoroughly equipped rooms, and an earnest body of consecrated young men, it is prepared to do a work that shall be of lasting benefit to the city in the years to come. The moral conditions of every community depends upon its young men, and an institution which benefits this class benefits the community, making every home and every piece of property safer.

The following directors and officers were elected: Directors for three years, Chas. F. Cummings of Atlantic, C. W. Branch of Quincy, Herbert W. Pinkham, Amos D. Abes and F. E. Litchfield of Wollaston.

For the first year, Dr. Sampson of Quincy, J. A. Turner of Wollaston, E. W. Branch, Treasurer—Geo. A. Sidelinger.

At the board meeting following the annual meeting, the following officers were elected.

President.—T. Henry Wason, to fill vacancy caused by the death of Edward Hewitson.

Vice President, in place of Geo. H. Brown who declined re-election, Amos D. Abes of Wollaston.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Association will on next Sunday observe the 100th anniversary of the discovery of America by appropriate exercises.

Mr. Theophilus King will deliver the address, and the Congregational quartette will sing.

Members desiring to secure reserved seats at the special rates are requested to call at the association rooms at once, as the reserved seats will be put on sale Saturday, at 12 m., at Durgin's drug store, Quincy Centre, and Tucker's drug store, Wollaston.

The course will open one week from to-night by the Belle Botsford concert company. Miss Botsford is the star of the company, is one of the best, if not the best lady violinist living today. She entered the Paris conservatory at the age of twelve. At that time there were a hundred and twenty candidates for admission, of whom one sixth were rejected. After five years study in Paris with Leonard, she played at special concerts in London under Apollinaire's direction. In Paris her first appearance was under Gounod's direction, and in this country she made her debut at the Worcester festival, achieving a decided success.

The Clerks' Meeting.

The Quincy Council I. O. O. C. held another large meeting at Doble's hall Thursday evening, and admitted three new members. After the regular meeting of the Council, a mass meeting and smoke talk was held. Addresses were made by Joseph P. Pratt, A. H. Kerwin, James R. D. D. Dungan, J. W. W. Key, and George W. Penniman and Commander Samuel B. Turner of Post 88, and the above gentlemen, was the benefit to be derived by the clerks by joining the Quincy Council.

Arrangements were completed for attending the parade at Waltham Columbus day. It was voted to invite all the clerks in the city to participate, and Mayor Fairbanks and other City officials to be their guests.

The sad news comes from Washington that Mrs. Harrison's end is approaching fast. The head of the nation has the sympathy of not only his country but of all the civilized world in this bitter hour of affliction.

The Way it Struck Her.

MARGARET ETTINGER.

A little ragged orphan girl, who ne'er had a home nor a parent's care, and who with shooting pains besides head, newspapers sold to earn her scanty bread, was taken from the city far away.

With others of her kind, one summer day, To look upon the ocean. At the sight

Her thin, sharp, face was filled with grave delight,

And some said, "I wonder what can be her thoughts, poor child, about the mighty sea?"

She heard the words and quickly turned her head.

And in low tones, "I'm thinkin' ma'am," she said,

"I glad I come, because I never sor

Enough of anything at wast' before."

Mr. Howells has given the title of "The Coast of Bohemia" to his new novel of American girl life which is about to be published in the "Ladies' Home Journal." The novelist says in the story that "it is about the prettiest thing I have ever done."

—Some of the native women of Australia have queer idea of beauty. They enthrone themselves with shells, keep the wounds open for a long time, and when they heal, huge scars are the result. These scars are deemed highly ornamental.

—Queen Liliuokalani of the Sandwich Islands, to encourage temperance has established a coffee house in her capital city, and takes it as a personal compliment to hear her subjects ordering a sandwich and coffee.

—Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher says in the "Ladies' Home Journal" that the great preacher spoke thickly when a boy of average size and strength, and delivered any-where for $1.20 apiece.

WILL Celebrate October Day.

A letter from His Holiness Leo XIII was read in the Catholic church of this city on Sunday, the 12th of October, or the following Sunday.

The Holy Father orders the 12th of October, or the following Sunday to be fittingly celebrated in the Catholic churches of Italy, Spain and America.

In consequence of this request, the solemn high mass of the Holy Trinity will be celebrated at St. John's church on Sunday next.

The full choir, under the direction of the organist, Miss Margaret Garrity, will render Gounod's mass. After mass the Te Deum will be sung in thanksgiving for all favors received from God during the last four hundred years. The ceremonies will be concluded by solemn benediction.

Painting of John Adams.

At the annual meeting of the Bostonian Society in the Old State House, Boston, Tuesday a letter from Charles W. Parker was read, bostowing upon the society the two paintings of John Adams and Fisher Ames, after Stuart, which were loaned to the society by Dr. Edgar Parker in 1888, and bequeathed by him to the society at his death.

Judge Mullen Chamberlain gave a most interesting account of James Ools and the wrists of assistance, argued before the superior court sitting in the council chamber for the February term, 1701.

"John Adams," said the judge, "in his old age described the event which he witnessed in his youth, and told minutes of his life to another who was afterwards examined into the only account which remains, save the meager report found in Quincy's Reports."

"In this chamber," wrote Adams "near the fire was seated five judges, with Lieut.-Gov. Hutchinson at their head, in their broad bands and immemorial judicial wigs. In this chamber were seated at a long table all the barristers of Boston and its neighboring Middlesex, in their gowns, bands and tye-wigs."

A woman mopped up the information and, Orlon, some time ago by telling him that had forgotten her destination.

He called on the names of a long list of stations, but she was unable to recognize the name of her place.

—Hassan Mohammed, reputed to be the king of tramps, who is making a pedestrian tour of 10,000 miles in 450 days was married to Miss Emma C. Campbell of Sacramento, Cal., recently. It was part of his wager that he would marry some lady who would be willing to take him in, and after that he could not tell him if he could find a wife to take him in.

And I knew you would not want your daughter to take a fib."

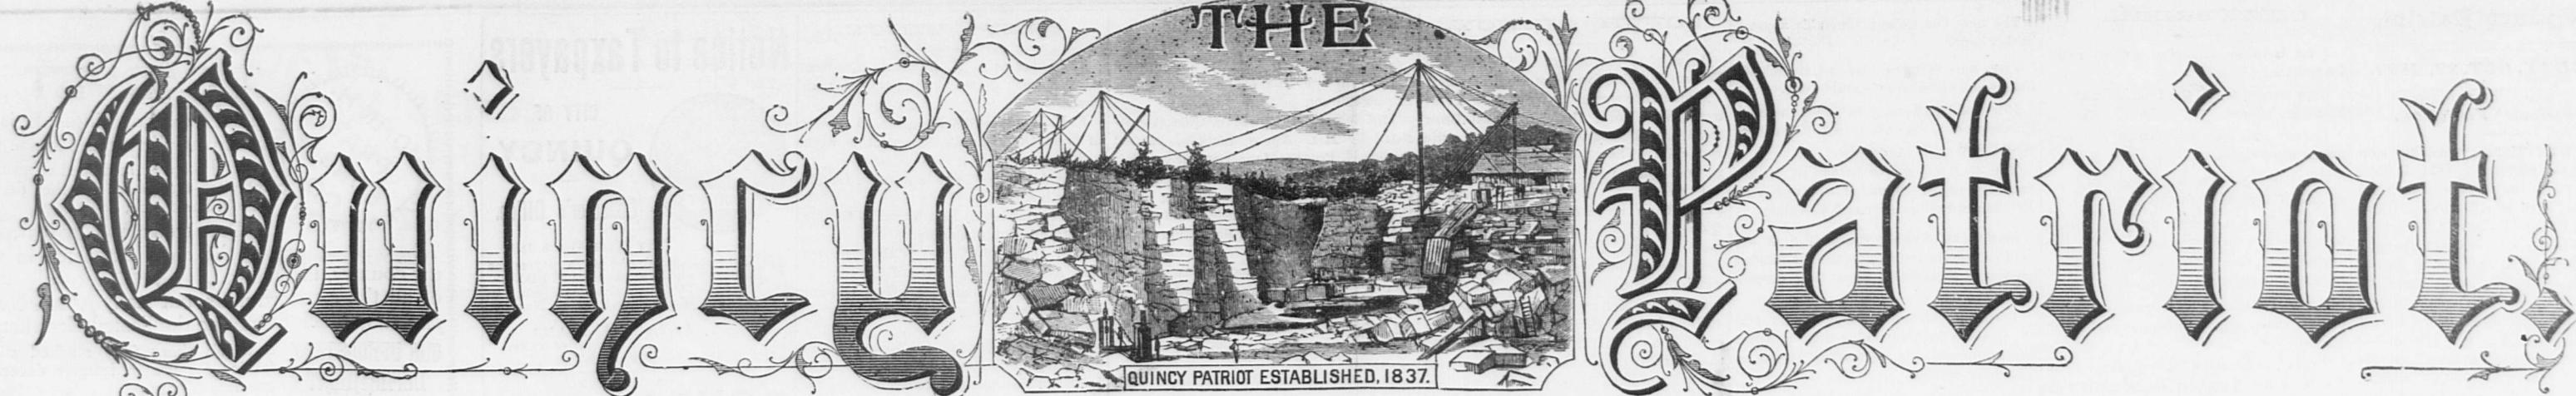

"Eight or ten times?" Why—I—

"Yes, mamma, eight or ten times, I guess."

"Eight or ten times?" Why—

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, OCT. 22, 1892.

Odd Fellows' Visitation.

A special train Thursday evening conveyed large delegations of Odd Fellows from Quincy and Braintree to Brockton. There were 54 from Mt. Wollaston Lodge and 20 from Puritan Lodge. At Brockton they were received at the depot by their host, the Massassett Lodge, and a line of march taken up to the hall. There the local lodge exemplified the second degree in exceptionally fine style. An excellent banquet followed, and in the after-dinner speech the historians laud the gift of man. Odd Fellows were delayed over half an hour by the special car becoming derailed at the start. The Quincy delegation reached home about 1 a. m., and hope soon to enjoy another so enjoyable an evening.

The Opening Concert.

The People's Star course under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association was opened at Hancock hall Thursday evening and there was a very good attendance. The Belle Botsford Concert company was the attraction—Miss Belle Botsford, violin virtuoso; Miss Anna Lome, soprano; Miss Grace Bullock, violinist; Mr. David Lytle, baritone and Mr. Fred Willard Brackett, pianist.

Each of the numbers on the programme were encored, but none more heartily than the duett of Miss Thomas and Mr. Lytle. Miss Botsford is certainly an accomplished violinist.

The second entertainment will be given Thursday, Nov. 24, by the Ladies' Schubert quartette and Jessie Couttou, reader.

Columbus Week.

This is Columbus week, and celebrations are being held all over the country. Dedication ceremonies on a large scale are being held at the exposition at Chicago, while distinguished schools and cities are marking the day.

The nation was represented by Vice-president Morton, President Harrison being unwilling to leave the bedside of his dying wife.

Twenty governors with suites were present. Modern research has shown that Columbus was a greatly overrated man.

But the four hundredth anniversary now being celebrated does not commit the nation to any old and exploded notions of his virtues. We celebrate his discovery, his earnest and plucky persistence and the wonderful transformation which 400 years have wrought in this country. The celebrations are further useful in an educational way, as a vast amount of Columbus literature has been published.

Graham and Hammond.

Republican delegates from the different wards of the city held a Representative convention at the city headquarters Tuesday evening. Nathan Ames of Ward Four was chairman and J. O. Williams of Ward One was secretary.

A committee of credentials—H. O. Souther, T. F. Mitchell and J. E. Sprague—were appointed and reported a full delegation, which was the unanimous choice of the convention.

It was then voted to proceed to the presentation of candidates.

Charles H. Glines of Ward Four presented the name of Councilman Charles L. Hammond, which was seconded by Arthur E. Baxter.

Charles H. Sherman of Ward Five nominated Wendell G. Correll and Benjamin King seconded the nomination.

E. W. Bass of Ward One presented the name of Councilman George W. Morton, which was seconded by Frederick L. Jones.

A recess of two minutes was taken, and it was then voted to proceed to an informal ballot for one Representative.

A committee was appointed to receive, sort and count votes, and the result was as follows:

Ward One,	11 delegates.
Ward Two,	8 "
Ward Three,	10 "
Ward Four,	7 "
Ward Five,	7 "
Ward Six,	5 "
Total,	48 "

The report was adopted and the temporary organization made permanent.

Charles R. Sherman moved the renomination by acclamation of John R. Graham for Representative, and he was the unanimous choice of the convention.

It was then voted to proceed to the presentation of candidates.

Charles H. Glines of Ward Four presented the name of Councilman Charles L. Hammond, which was seconded by Arthur E. Baxter.

Charles H. Sherman of Ward Five nominated Wendell G. Correll and Benjamin King seconded the nomination.

E. W. Bass of Ward One presented the name of Councilman George W. Morton, which was seconded by Frederick L. Jones.

A recess of two minutes was taken, and it was then voted to proceed to an informal ballot for one Representative.

A committee was appointed to receive, sort and count votes, and the result was as follows:

Number of votes cast,	48
Majority,	25
James Thompson had	2
George W. Morton had	11
W. G. Correll had	11
Charles L. Hammond had	30

Upon motion of Councilman Sherman the ballot was made formal, and by a rising vote Charles L. Hammond was unanimously declared the nominee.

Upon motion of Arthur E. Baxter, the candidates were requested to give, if elected, a Republican caucus for United States Senator, and the candidacy of Henry Cabot Lodge.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the nominees and request their presence.

While they went Louis A. Goad, one of the Weymouth delegates to the joint convention, was called upon for speech. He looked to Republican success from top to bottom, had a good word for Mr. Merrill, the nominee for Senator, and hoped Quincy would give the Weymouth nominee for Representative, Dr. C. C. Tower, the full party strength.

The nominees of the convention, Messrs. Graham and Hammond, were both received with enthusiasm when they entered and both accepted the nomination in brief speeches.

Chairman Ames, Secretary Williams and James H. Webb were appointed delegates to a joint convention with Weymouth delegates to ratify the nominations of both places, and the convention adjourned.

Joint Convention.

The Weymouth nomination of Dr. C. C. Tower, and the Quincy nominees, John R. Graham and Charles L. Hammond were ratified, and the necessary papers made out.

N. E. Woman's Press Assn.

The regular monthly literary meeting and high tea of the New England Woman's Press Association was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Parker house, Boston. Miss Floretta Vining of Hull and Mrs. L. A. W. Fowler of Dedham were in charge of the meeting and pleasing entertainments were given before and after tea. At six o'clock about seventy-five sat down to tea in the pretty crystal dining room.

The meeting was an unusually large one, doubtless due to the popularity of Miss Vining.

It is sad to hear that the young city of Quincy has more party politics in her municipal government than any other city in the country. It is said that in view of this state of things that she declines to adopt an ordinance after the Burrage pattern. It is to be hoped that she will do so, and that the time will come when she will be able to do so.

This is a questionable statement and a false report has done for our fair city, which has one of the cleanest governments of any city in the country. What Reportman Federher did was as reported in the LEDGER Tuesday, that there was as much politics in Quincy for its size as in any other city. Even this assertion is disputed, and rightly too, and yet see how the independent Herald twists it round. It adds the word "party" and then hears that we have more rather than as much for its size. God forbid that Quincy shall take Boston as a model city politically.

Upon motion of Councilman Sherman the ballot was made formal, and by a rising vote Charles L. Hammond was unanimously declared the nominee.

Upon motion of Arthur E. Baxter, the candidates were requested to give, if elected, a Republican caucus for United States Senator, and the candidacy of Henry Cabot Lodge.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the nominees and request their presence.

While they went Louis A. Goad, one of the Weymouth delegates to the joint convention, was called upon for speech. He looked to Republican success from top to bottom, had a good word for Mr. Merrill, the nominee for Senator, and hoped Quincy would give the Weymouth nominee for Representative, Dr. C. C. Tower, the full party strength.

The nominees of the convention, Messrs. Graham and Hammond, were both received with enthusiasm when they entered and both accepted the nomination in brief speeches.

Chairman Ames, Secretary Williams and James H. Webb were appointed delegates to a joint convention with Weymouth delegates to ratify the nominations of both places, and the convention adjourned.

Joint Convention.

The Weymouth nomination of Dr. C. C. Tower, and the Quincy nominees, John R. Graham and Charles L. Hammond were ratified, and the necessary papers made out.

N. E. Woman's Press Assn.

The regular monthly literary meeting and high tea of the New England Woman's Press Association was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Parker house, Boston. Miss Floretta Vining of Hull and Mrs. L. A. W. Fowler of Dedham were in charge of the meeting and pleasing entertainments were given before and after tea. At six o'clock about seventy-five sat down to tea in the pretty crystal dining room.

The meeting was an unusually large one, doubtless due to the popularity of Miss Vining.

It is sad to hear that the young city of Quincy has more party politics in her municipal government than any other city in the country. It is said that in view of this state of things that she declines to adopt an ordinance after the Burrage pattern. It is to be hoped that she will do so, and that the time will come when she will be able to do so.

This is a questionable statement and a false report has done for our fair city, which has one of the cleanest governments of any city in the country. What Reportman Federher did was as reported in the LEDGER Tuesday, that there was as much politics in Quincy for its size as in any other city. Even this assertion is disputed, and rightly too, and yet see how the independent Herald twists it round. It adds the word "party" and then hears that we have more rather than as much for its size. God forbid that Quincy shall take Boston as a model city politically.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Auner, M. D.,
11 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of their nostrum nostrum which are destroying their love and fondness for us. Castoria is a simple soother syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats. Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Three Words.

There are three lessons I would write—
Three we do as with a burning pen
In tracings of eternal light.
Upon the hearts of men.

Have Faith. Though clouds environ now,
And gladness hides her face in scorn,
Put thou the shadow from thy brow—
No night but has it worn.

Have Hope. Though clouds environ now,
The calm's import, the tempest's wrath—
Know thou: God rules the hosts of heaven,
The inhabitants of earth.

Have Love. Though love abounds for one,
What man as thy brother call,
And scatter like the circling sun,
They charities on all.

These gave these words on my soul—
Hope, Faith and Love, and then shaft find
Strength, when Life's surges must roll,
Light, when thouwert else blind.

The new and extensive passenger station contemplated by the Old Colony in Boston would be a great improvement, as would also a new one in the city.

Mr. William B. Rice is making quite a reputation as a stamp dealer. He is present at the Democratic rally at Music hall Wednesday night, and did it gracefully.

The attraction centered on the three rooms which have been recently decorated and furnished. The reading room, through the liberality of Mrs. Venetia's views of the Rialto, with its heavy wainscoting, draping of the Grand Canal with a picture of the Esque gondolas in the distance, and the Ducal Palace in the distance, and of St. Mark's looking over the canal. On the mantle there was an exquisite pair of Japanese vases, and over all were the electric lights with their brightness muffled by yellow shades.

The smoking room, which is one of the new features of the house, attracted a large share of attention. It has been furnished with the idea of making a smoker one of the most comfortable feeling in the house. The room is furnished with large leather upholstered and rattan easy chairs, and with a quartered oak reading table, and the walls are hung with engravings.

But the room which attracted the most attention was the new ladies' waiting room, with its exquisite furnishings; its rattan easy chairs and couch; oak chesterfield and cheval glass; oak ceiling and floor, and curtains and lace carpet.

The bridal couple was attended by the younger brothers of the bride, Mr. Nathan Ames and Mr. George Ames. The room in which the ceremony occurred was prettily decorated with evergreen and eucalyptus. Miss Alice Cran played the wedding march.

The bride was married in a traveling dress of steel colored brocade, and a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom was conspicuous.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1892.

Y. Men's Christian Association.

Rev. E. S. Ufford, author of "Throw Out the Lime Line," will address the men's meeting Sunday afternoon and sing that now famous hymn.

The new members are coming in lively. One member who, at the committee tea Wednesday night agreed to secure fourteen new members by January 1st, obtained four applications that same evening.

The total attendance at the men's gymnasium last month was 160, an average of 15. The boys' class had a total of 10, an average of 10. This did not include the attendance outside of the classes. The business men's class has started out well, and promises to be quite popular.

The Thanksgiving concert will be given in the Congregational church, instead of Hancock Hall, as advertised. The trustees of the hall found that the hall had been let several months ago for that evening. Tickets with reserved seats for the five remaining entertainments can be secured for $1.25 to non-members and 80 cents to members. The Thanksgiving concert will be given by the Schubert Ladies' Quartette and Jesse Conthou.

For District Attorney.

Robert O. Harris, Republican candidate for district attorney, is one of the leading lawyers of the Plymouth County bar. He is 38 years of age and has a large practice. He is a man of high personal character and an able lawyer.

Mr. Harris has been in active practice since 1870; has been a member of the Massachusetts Legislature, serving upon several important committees of the House, and with signal ability on the floor of the House; has served as assistant to ex-District Attorneys French and Bumpus, and is eminently qualified to perform the duties of the high office for which he is a candidate.

Mr. Harris should have the full Republican and Independent vote of the district.

First Church.

An adjourned meeting of the First Parish was held in the chapel Thursday evening. Hon. C. H. Porter was chosen moderator and C. H. Johnson clerk pro tem. The resignation of Rev. D. M. Wilson was read and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS—The Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor of this church for more than thirteen years, has ended his representations before December 1st, 1892, to assume a higher and more important position in the Unitarian denomination;

Resolved—That this Society, in accepting his resignation, which is flattering rather than the call to a larger and more important field of labor, leaves it no option but to desire to express to its pastor its grateful appreciation of his services, and its earnest hope that the summing up of his services in the parish and of the city during a most important and eventful period of their history.

Resolved—Further, that the society hereby conveys to Mr. Wilson its best wishes for success in a future field of labor, for which his long experience, commanding talents, and charitable and educational work of our parish and city has so eminently qualified him; and its earnest hope that the summing up of his services in the parish and of the city during a most important and eventful period of their history.

Resolved—That the clerk be instructed to forward an enlarged copy of these resolutions to the Rev. Mr. Wilson, and also spread the same upon the records of the parish.

A committee of 14 together with the parish assessors was appointed to consider and pass upon the merits of various candidates for the vacant parsonate, and report their recommendations thereon at a subsequent meeting of the parish.

West Quincy Rally.

St. Mary's hall was filled Thursday with a large audience. On the stage were Peter H. Corcoran of South Boston, Col. Frank H. D. of Lowell, Hon. John H. McDougal of Boston, William H. Burke of East Boston, Albert P. Worthen of Weymouth, Thomas H. Canning of Roxbury, Mr. Hollbrook of Weymouth, Major John W. Hart of Weymouth, Hon. William A. Hodges of Quincy, Hon. James F. Burke and Councilman Powers of this city.

Mr. Burke called the meeting to order, and introduced as its presiding officer Hon. William A. Hodges, who was received with enthusiastic bursts of applause. Mr. Albert P. Worthen of Weymouth was the first speaker, and said that the registration in Weymouth had increased wonderfully and that the Democracy of Weymouth stood as a unit. Mr. Worthen was followed by Mr. J. A. Holbrook of Weymouth who spoke briefly.

Mr. Peter H. Corcoran of South Boston made an eloquent and passionate appeal for Mr. McDougal. Every time he mentioned the candidate's name, it was the signal for a burst of unanimous applause.

Mr. Corcoran held the attention of his audience throughout, and was cheered time and again.

Col. Frank H. D. spoke an eloquent oration. His sarcastic and humorous style pleased the audience, and when he finished one man in the audience said he would like to hear the genial Colonel speak all night.

At 9:20 Mr. McDougal's form was seen ascending the rear stairs, and as he stepped onto the stage, he was loudly cheered for several minutes. He delivered the same speech as at Quincy.

Republicans Parade in Boston.

"Old Prob" played a bluff game with the Republicans Thursday. He wanted to find out if they would care, but when the rain was falling hardest, telegrams were sent out from the State headquarters that the Boston parade would be held rain or shine. Then "Old Prob" put up, the rain ceased and the nearly full parade moved on.

It was a beautiful night, even if it was too muddy for good marching in the streets. Many Republicans regarded the clearing weather as a good omen.

The seventh division was the one in which local interest centered, as it was commanded by a Quincy young man, who was assisted by several aids from this city, and in which the Quincy companies took part.

J. Frank Goodhue, a member of Merrill's Mounted Men, met with a serious accident at the parade in Boston Thursday evening. He was riding on Shawmut avenue after the parade, when his horse slipped and fell with Goodhue underneath, fracturing his left leg. He was taken to the City Hospital in Boston.

WHEATON SEMINARY CLUB. The regular meeting of the New England Wheaton Seminary Club will be held at the Thorndike, Boston, Saturday, Nov. 12. Business meeting at noon, luncheon at 1, followed by the social hour and literary program. The theme will be "The Literature of Spain" will be the topic for the afternoon, in charge of Mrs. John MacMurphy (Annie Moles) of Worcester, formerly of the New York Wheaton Club. The Music Committee will furnish Spanish music to round out the programme.

The senior middle class of the Thayer Academy held an assembly at the Town Hall, South Braintree, this Saturday afternoon.

The old stone depot at Savin Hill has been demolished to make room for the two additional tracks.

CITY BRIEFS.

Vote!

Now for election.

Several votes will be challenged on election day.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sherman have gone to Florida for the winter.

A Republican Scandinavian rally was held Friday evening at Hancock hall.

Christmas will come on Sunday this year and only seven weeks from now.

The free evening school opened Monday night at the Adams and Willard buildings.

Mr. A. F. Schenckelberger sold Wednesday for Europe on the White Star steamer "Teutonic."

The City Council is scheduled to meet on the eve of the election. We predict it will be a short session.

In the last presidential election Quincy held 2405 votes, and Harrison led Cleveland by 11 votes.

The Prohibitionists have no candidate for Senator in this district, and it is Merrill's.

Mr. D. X. Peeverley and wife of Bryant's Pond, Me., are visiting Mrs. Peeverley on Chestnut street.

Nominations for the city election must be made within three weeks. Nov. 24 is the last day to file them.

Mrs. Charles Vinal and daughter of Appleton, Wisconsin, spent Tuesday with her aunt, Mrs. N. F. Burnell.

It is expected that the torchlight parade of November 7, will be one of the largest and best Quincy has ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Taylor, from Allendale Terrace, Boston, for the winter.

Mr. N. E. Thompson, a retired merchant of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Batson of Edwards street.

Boston has 256 precincts but only three have over 600 voters, and none are as large as Wards One, Three, or Four, in this city.

Mr. Peter Moran, the genial baggage master at the Quincy depot, moved into his new house on Main street Tuesday.

One of Bartlett's coal wagons lost the nut of one of its wheels Tuesday in the square and street car travel was delayed some.

It is rather queer, is it not, that both the chairman of the Republican and Democratic city committee should be trying for the same office.

One candidate in the Tenth Congressional district, who has not made himself conspicuous, is William W. Marple of Quincy, who leads the Prohibition party.

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church are to hold a tea and musical in the chapel next Thursday afternoon. See advertisement for more particulars.

Rev. E. S. Ufford, author of "Throw out the Lime Line," will give an illustrated song service at the Evangelical Congregational church, Quincy, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. With his calcium light stereopticon and slides he will show the illustrated part, and give at the close of the song service his interesting series on home service work among their many friends.

Mr. I. H. Adams and his sister Miss E. C. Adams of Elm street, Quincy, are now located at the Hotel Berkely, Boston, for the winter. We are pleased to learn that their health is quite good, and that they may enjoy a pleasant winter is the wish of their many friends.

Mr. J. Condon has the contract for wiring the Sacred Heart church, of Atlantic, for electric lights. He has also just completed wiring the polishing shop of F. J. Fuller.

John Q. Newcomb, for several years a clerk for Saville & Jones, has severed his connection with that firm to accept a position with J. W. Sandon & Co., Boston.

The marriage of Mr. James P. McGovern of the firm of McGovern Bros., and Miss Mary L. King, is announced to take place at St. John's church, Wednesday, Nov. 9.

A gymnasium class for business men was formed Tuesday at the Young Men's Christian Association. The class will meet Monday and Thursday evenings at 4:30 o'clock.

The church collection for the City Hospital is being taken this year by a personal canvass of the members, and naturally a much larger contribution will be secured for this worthy object.

Wednesday evening All Souls, a solemn mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church in the morning by the pastor, Rev. F. A. Fringiglietti. At 8 o'clock in the evening there was also benediction.

All three of the Prohibition candidates for Representatives in the Weymouth-Quincy district are from Weymouth. This is rather slighting the temperance men of that city, but they can do better work with the two leading parties.

On Tuesday evening four members of the Executive Committee of the W. R. C. met with Mrs. Lucy B. Tarr, who is in town for a few days on business.

The many friends of Miss Lucy B. Tarr, box, the city, formerly of the John Hancock school, will be pleased to learn that she is engaged in teaching a private school in New York. She is teaching the Quincy method.

A surprise party was tendered to Mr. Murdoch McDonald of Liberty street, Thursday evening, and that gentleman was made the recipient of a fine picture. A surprise was made to him at the door.

The Democrats held a rousing rally at Hancock hall Thursday evening, much enthusiasm being shown by the audience. Fred F. Green called the meeting to order and introduced W. G. Patten, who introduced the several speakers, who were Peter C. Keene to John Velder et al., Henry L. Lovell by mortgagee to C. H. Lovell, and Randolph gained but nineteen voters on the registration which closed Wednesday night. The total is 363.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1892.

By and By.

By and by we'll know each other,
As we never knew before,
When the morn of life is breaking
And the shadows flee away.

By and by we'll cross the river,
Enter in the Golden Gates;
Hear the strains of angel music
Softly falling on the ear.

When the misty veil that hides us
From our dear ones gone before,
Shall be drawn aside forever,
We shall meet them face to face.

By and by our cares and sorrows
From the heart shall roll away,
And our souls shall rise triumphant
When the veil is rent in twain.

When grim death shall cross our threshold,
And our dear ones pass away;

While our hearts are torn with anguish,
At the thought that we must part,

Heavenly voices whisper softly,
"Twil be with you."

—Pain of articles—such as gloves, shoes, socks, etc., are not transmissible by mail to foreign countries at the postage rates and conditions applicable to "samples of merchandise," but one article of a pair may be so transmitted.

—One of the smallest women in the world is the daughter of Nathan Harris of Rich Valley, Va. At the age of nineteen, she is only two feet ten inches in height, weighs just forty and one-half pounds, and is perfectly natural and wholesome in her ways of life.

—Two or three young ladies who live in a suburb of London have started a carrier pigeon post among themselves. They have each a couple of birds and send notes to each other irrespective of the post or telephone office. In this way they can arrange impromptu tea parties, etc., without any trouble.

—The average ministerial salary in the United States is $700, ranging from $60 to $2000. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity gets $2000, Dr. T. H. Taylor, $12,000, supplemented by literary endeavors to about $20,000. Dr. Taylor of the Tabernacle gets $10,000. Dr. Paxton, $12,000, raised from $8,000; Dr. Wilton Merrill Smith received $7,000 his first year.

—The United States gold dollar contains 25 troy grains. The ordinary pound, avoirdupois, contains 7,000 grains, therefore $1,000,000 in gold coin weighs 3,680.4 pounds avoirdupois, or over a ton and a half. The standard silver dollar weighs 12 troy grains, or 1,000 grains in weight. The dollar coinage will weigh 56,031 pounds, or nearly 28 1/4 tons.

—There is a curious group of rocks near Milan which form the so-called "Nature's City." An irregular mass of rocks some 300 feet high resemble a citadel. Below are five depressions, of which one is a gigantic amphitheatre, and the second a necropolis, a third a parade and the fourth a regularly laid out city quarters, with public monuments, gates, streets, etc.

—Many people suppose that rosewood takes its name from its color, but this is a mistake. Rosewood is not red, nor yellow, but almost black. Its name comes from the fact that when first cut it exhales a perfume similar to that of a rose, and although the dried rosewood of commerce retains no trace of this early perfume, the name lingers as a relic of the early history of the wood.

—There are 42 Egyptian obelisks still in existence. Twelve of these are in Rome, five in London, and one in Central Park, New York. The tallest obelisk known is that of Karnak, which measures 105 feet 7 inches. The obelisk in St. Peter's Square, Rome, was brought to that city in 1865 by the architect, Domenico Fontana, who raised it safely on its pedestal. For this he was rewarded by the Pope.

—William H. Hale of Springfield, a well-known author and a knight of the Golden Spike, received a sum of 2000 crowns, 10,000 troy grains, in extra money, all the material he had used, and was given 30,000 crowns and a diamond ring. It took two years to set up the one in Central Park, and the one which was presented to London in 1861 was not erected until 1878.

—There is a village on the Northern Pacific railroad which has 54 inhabitants and two churches, both Presbyterian.

—Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castor and although we only have one medical man in our city, it is known as an authority, yet we find from the reports of the medical men of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it.

The Granite Exhibit.

The World's Fair at Chicago, which is occupying so large a share of the public attention at the present time, and which will be so important a public education, has a more direct and stimulating interest to the citizens of Quincy. The chief industry of the city and the cause and effect of the prosperity of its people is its granite business, the fact being well known and sometimes illustrated.

Quincy granite has many competitors in the market who are pushing their goods rapidly and slandering the character and quality of Quincy granite and work, and making it difficult for us to sell.

In order to show the world at large, which is expected to be at Chicago in '93, the unrivaled qualities and beauties of their granite, the manufacturers have arranged to place $10,000 or more in an exhibit at the fair and have just been accorded the first official allotment of space granted in the building.

The matter is something which is indicative to the welfare of all citizens, either directly or indirectly, and every effort or suggestion from the public generally or any line, the committee assures us, will be appreciated; they wish to make the exhibit worthy and creditable. They offer prizes for designs and solicit any new or original ideas.

Golden Wedding.

November 7, 1842, a pretty wedding was solemnized in this city, then a town, the contracting parties being Edwin N. Willett, son of Mr. Abner and Mrs. Catherine Willett, and Miss Hannah Magoun of Pembroke, daughter of Mr. Asaph and Mrs. Lydia Magoun of that place.

Officiating clergymen were Rev. John Gray, pastor of the Universalist church.

Fifty long years have passed since that time and last Monday evening we find the bride and groom of fifty years ago at their home on High School avenue, surrounded by children, grandchildren and friends, who had gathered to help them celebrate their golden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Willett stood by a table banked with white and yellow chrysanthemums and received their friends and renewed friendships. The evening was one of pleasure and will long be remembered by those who were present. They received a number of handsome and valuable presents, among which were fifty dollars in gold and a diamond Cather Nash served the wedding supper.

During their fifty years of married life they have not been entirely free from sorrow, for they have twice been called upon to follow one of their children, whom there were five, to their last resting place.

Mr. and Mrs. Willett have always lived in Quincy where they are highly respected. They enjoy quite good health and it is the wish of all their many friends and acquaintances that they may be privileged to live and enjoy many more happy years of happiness.

Y. Men's Christian Association.

The Week of Prayer for Young men comes next Sunday. The local association will observe the day, and if sufficient interest is manifested, will continue the meetings during the week. The Sunday afternoon meeting will be addressed by a delegate from the Convention of Christian Workers.

The new membership committee held its first meeting last evening, and it found plenty of work to begin with, as there were about thirty applications for membership. The gymnasium work under the direction of Dr. E. R. John is in progress, finally, new men coming in at every class. We find it is not generally understood that the work is so graded that a person can join a class without having previous obligations to attend every session. Attendance is purely optional. Visitors are always welcome, and many find it a good evening entertainment to sit in the gallery and watch the classes. The work done is equal to that of the best Boston gymnasium. The men's classes are on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings; boys' classes on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons, and the class for business and professional men, under the direction of Secretary Colton, meets at 4:30 on Monday and Thursdays. On Tuesday evenings the gallery is reserved for the ladies.

Many men and others who desire reserved seats for the entertainments will still find a few good seats on sale at the rooms, at reduced rates for the remainder of the course. The entertainment on Thursday Nov. 24, Thanksgiving night, by the Ladies' Schubert Quartette, and Jessie Gauthier promises to be the best given in Quincy for many years. It will be given in the Congregational church.

Silver Wedding.

It was just such weather 25 years ago as it was Nov. 4th last week, but both were memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown, a popular couple in South Boston. On the former they were married in South Boston, and last week at their Union church, and last week at their pretty residence on Brattle street they observed their 25th marriage anniversary. Although it was rainy without, it was a social and good time within to the many from Quincy, Dorchester, South Boston, Wollaston and elsewhere in attendance.

Several represented Post 68 of Dorchester and Commandant Jackson, in behalf of the Grand Army friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Brown with a rich silver set. In his speech he said a counterfeiter dollar might not be first to be distinguished from a genuine one, and so it was with a new acquaintance but in 25 years the world was apparent, and he read stories showing the host and hostess had stood the test.

Mr. Brown responded, speaking of the many friendships they had made in 25 years, and accepted the gift with humble and sincere thanks.

Among others presents were a pretty dinner set from the Calliclub of Mattapan Lodge, K. of H., and a marble clock from shopmates. Mr. Brown being master painter of the Old Colony railroad.

Mrs. Brown is a member of the old Pierce family of Dorchester, and Mr. Brown is a popular Mass. Grand Army man and Knight of Honor.

Temple of Boston furnished the supper and the musical entertainment included a concert sketch by Mr. Brown, and piano and concert selections by Miss Laura and Mr. Charles Brown, son and daughter of the host.

Crystal Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Arnone, residing on Penn street, South Quincy, observed their crystal wedding at their residence Tuesday evening, entertaining about fifty of their friends from South Boston, Cambridge, West Quincy and Quincy. The evening was spent in playing cards, dancing, singing and listening to instrumental music.

Mr. Arnone, a native of Italy, has had a piano and a cedar piano from South Quincy, and Quincy friends, a marble clock with ornament, water set and a berry dish, the presentation speech being made by Dr. McLean. Among other presents were three dozen tumblers, pair vases, cup and saucer, cake dish, smoking set, wine set, dozen saucers, match safe, dozen ice cream dishes.

A fine collation was served, and as the few small hours were striking, the party took their departure, wishing the happy couple many happy returns of the day.

CITY BRIEFS.

Now for the city election. Less than two weeks to Thanksgiving. The City Council will meet on Wednesday evening, next week. The gent's furnishing stores are having a rush in the hat trade. The vote of the city in full by wards will be found on the fourth page of this issue. Miss Mary J. Gilbert has succeeded Miss Litchfield as clerk in the street railway office. Mr. George A. Voorhees has accepted a position with a Electric Light Company at Lexington.

A vote was taken at the High school Tuesday and Harrison led with a majority of 20.

As goes Quincy so goes the country, which is being fulfilled again. Both appear to be for Cleveland.

Mrs. W. A. Clark and daughters have returned to New York, after an extended stay in this place.

Revised voting lists for the city election have been posted; also notices of the Regulators for additional meetings.

The big fire at East Boston Saturday evening was plainly seen in Quincy and thought to be much nearer.

The little seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Babcock of Greenleaf street is sick with the scarlet fever.

The beautiful town of Camden, Me., from which some Quincy people halfed was wiped out by fire Tuesday morning.

Supt. Lull was on Saturday elected one of the committee on membership of the New England conference of election.

Mr. H. E. Ricker of Union street has purchased one of the new houses being erected on Bigelow street and will occupy it.

A slight fire in the currying shop of John Page on Washington street at 7:30 Friday morning was extinguished without an alarm.

There are those now who don't know who the Representatives elect are. Messrs. Graham, Worthen and Hammond are the men, in order named.

There will be a meeting of the Hospital Aid Association Thursday, Nov. 17th, at Probate Court room. Directors meeting at 2:30; business meeting at 3.

All nominations for the municipal election of Dec. 6 must be made and filed with in two weeks. The caucuses will probably be held the latter part of next week.

The terms of the following school committees expire this year: Joseph E. Shaelan at large, H. Evan Cotton in Ward two and Emery L. Crane in Ward three.

The I. S. L. Club of the first University church are to give a drama in the vestry next Friday evening. See cast of characters in advertisement in another column.

The wife of Mr. Joseph N. Page who resides on Foster street has been quite sick. She is still very weak and feeble, but her friends hope soon to hear of her recovery.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. M. A. Perkins, who has been quite sick, is recovering and we hope soon to see her smiling face in her usual rounds of duty and pleasure.

Gentlemen who have moved from the city can vote here in a municipal election although they were permitted to at the State election and their names still remain on the list.

Sixteen bags of mail matter were received at the Quincy post office Sunday, necessitating some of his clerks and carriers. Two of the carriers made deliveries.

Mr. Newton, bookkeeper for Joel E. Shepard & Sons, at Quincy Point, being interviewed regarding the rumored strike among the teamsters, said in substance:

"There is no strike whatever. The drivers who were regularly employed here came to the office Tuesday morning and were paid off. No one is trying to work here, who does not wish to. We have secured new men, and had the weather been favorable, that number would have been running the usual number of teams today."

W. G. Caldwell, one of the twelve men who left work, said the men withdrew because they objected to the new man whom the firm placed in charge of the stable on Monday last.

The Chinese babies at Wollaston.

The Ladies' Benevolent society connected with the Wollaston Congregational society gave a sale and entertainment in the vestry of that church on Thursday evening. A large number of buyers patronized the tables, which was loaded with fruit, flowers, preserves, fancy articles, pastry and candy.

The pie table was in charge of Mrs. John Hobart; Mrs. W. M. Wright and Mrs. Anna were in charge of the cake table; Mrs. A. Lincoln, Mrs. Charles F. Bates, and Mrs. Tanner had tempting varieties of fruit for sale at their tables; Mrs. E. A. Taylor and Mrs. W. H. SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1892.

Annual Hospital Saturday.

At the regular monthly meeting of the members of the Hospital Aid Association Mrs. W. S. Key of Wollaston Heights was present to give a general outline of plans for the founding of an annual Hospital Saturday, such as that lady established and successfully carried through in various towns and cities in England. The plan includes a complete canvas of every family in the city on a certain day appointed, also the contribution on the same day of every workingman through his employer or employer's savings bank. The plan was received very favorably by the ladies present, and Mrs. Key proposed that the undertaking all the help of her own personal experience. Quite a number of hospitals in England today owe their existence and usefulness very largely to the results of the Hospital Saturday movement.

Improvements.

Looks lively on the old Miller estate. The old house is undergoing great changes at the hands of Dr. William Everett, but whether it will be used as the Academy boarding house or residence has not been made public.

Water pipe is being laid in the Miller Still road which has been reopened to travel.

Elisia Peacock is filling in his grounds and has caused edgestone to be laid the whole length of his lot on Bigelow street.

Rev. H. E. Cotton is building a pretty houses on the tennis ground which has filled in and is also laying edgestone on that side of the street.

Wings have been added to the fancy stone bridge over the brook on Bigelow street.

Walter S. Randall is digging the cellar for a house which he will occupy.

City Treasurer Adams has completed a cellar for his new residence at the corner of Bigelow and Canal streets, and will build two or three other houses.

F. A. Perkins is raising a new house on the new street between Washington and Bigelow streets, which is now being built. Other new houses on Bigelow street are talked.

Two Attractive Entertainments.

Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, have engaged the popular lecturer, Mr. George E. Fellows, for their annual meeting, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5, for the benefit of the relief fund of the corps. In the afternoon will present "Our Boys in Blue," the thrilling war lecture which was received with great success in the same hall last March. This lecture is of especial interest to the young people. In the evening he will give his new lecture, "The Heart of the Rockies," a recital of his recent trip through Colorado and Utah. Each lecture will be splendidly illustrated by nearly 100 of the finest stereopticon views to be obtained. Tickets are being sold by members of the W. R. C., and there is a lively demand for them.

Y. Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Amos D. Allen will speak at the men's meeting Sunday afternoon at 3.30, subject, "The First Foreign Missionary."

The entertainment Thanksgiving night will be given in the Congregational church. It would be hard to imagine a happier combination than Jessie Condwra, the well known recitationist, who toured so large a crowd last year, and the Ladies' Schubert Quartette.

The services on Monday and Wednesday evenings were interesting and profitable.

On Saturday evening the meeting will be held at 8.30, at the close of the gymnasium class. Mr. J. A. Belanger will conduct the service. Subject, "Confession Unto Salvation."

That the young men of the city appreciate the Association will be seen by the following:

One young man, on renewing his ticket for another year, said that his membership fee was the best investment that he ever made. Another speaks of the meeting Monday evening, and said that he had lived in Quincy four years, but had never felt at home and contented, but since becoming interested in the Association, he felt that he took more interest in the place, and looked forward to the coming winter as the pleasantest ever spent in the city.

A young man, recently come to the city, gave the following testimony in the Sunday afternoon meeting: "I came to the city an entire stranger. I was lone some and wanted to get acquainted with good people. I visited the association and found a welcome hand extended to me. I have found pleasant friends and have been helped by the association."

The Woman's Auxiliary held its first annual meeting Monday afternoon. While the society is young it was very helpful to the association.

The membership is about ninety. The following officers and directors were elected:

President, Mrs. George A. Litchfield; Vice-President, Mrs. T. B. Pollard.

Secretary, Miss Cornelia Elliott.

Treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Osborne.

Directors, Mrs. S. W. George, Mrs. A. W. Sprague, Mrs. J. S. Merrill, Mrs. O. C. Colton, Mrs. Edward Hewitson, Mrs. Charles Safford, Mrs. C. F. Cummings, Mrs. Walter T. Babcock, Miss Addie Miller.

The following committees were appointed:

Rooms, Mrs. T. Babcock, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. Theodore Hardwick.

Reception, Miss Ethel Burke, Miss Cornelia Elliott, Miss Mabel Pollock.

The membership committee to consist of officers and directors, Mrs. E. W. Branch was also added to this committee.

Young Men's Institute.

This new Institute, free from sectarianism, at the junction of Brooks Avenue and Liberty street, South Quincy, will open its attractive quarters about Dec. 1st. The reading room will be furnished with reading tables, easy chairs, pictures, curtains, etc., and a choice selection of reading matter, including the leading magazines, illustrated weeklies, comic papers, etc.

The apparatus for the gymnasium has been carefully selected and will consist in part of chest weights, abdominal mat, vaulting bar, jump stand, clubs, dumb bells, striking bags, medicine balls, parallel bars, rings, etc., being sold at par value.

Special attention has been given to the bath room, which for utility and comfort will be difficult to surpass. It is fitted with tub, shower and sponge baths, wash bowls and other conveniences. Arrangements will probably be made whereby those who are not members can have a bath on payment of a small fee.

Band Reunion.

The reunion held by the old Quincy band at Hancock hall, on Wednesday evening, was a grand success, thanks to the untiring efforts of Mr. Joseph W. Swan. The supper was served by Caterer, Wales, which was one of his best. After a supper a smoke-talk was enjoyed. Letters from members regretting that they could not be present were read, among whom was Mr. H. C. Brown, their former leader, who on account of an engagement at Tremont theatre was unable to be present.

During the evening Mr. Joseph Swan, former secretary, read a long history of the band, with some attendance. The hall was very tastefully decorated with flags, lanterns and Chinese lanterns and in the centre and on the sides of the hall were long tables which contained many useful and fancy articles, ice cream, confectionery, etc.

CITY BRIEFS.

False alarm seems to be dying with fire bugs.

Mr. W. N. Nash left Tuesday for a few days' trip to New York.

Mr. Henry D. Burr, an aged and highly respected citizen of Atlantic, is quite seriously sick.

Mrs. Martha Ellis is quite ill at present, but her friends hope soon to learn of her complete recovery.

Massasoit Lodge, L. O. O. F. will visit Ms. Wollaston Lodge of Quincy on Tuesday evening Nov. 22.

The grand officers of the Knights of Honor will make a visitation to Merry Mount Lodge of this city Dec. 30.

Any one who desires to contribute toward the Young Men's Institute can do so by signing the book at Willard's drug store.

One Quincy firm advertises dogs, cats, puppies and elephants for the holiday trade. Mr. Forebaugh will please take note.

Several of our citizens have received "green goods" this week offering a rare opportunity to become rich in a short time.

It is said that Charles Francis Adams has been interviewed on the Mayoralty question and that he declined to be a candidate for that office.

The Journal correspondent is ignorant of the make-up of our city government, for he says many would like to sit in the Board of Aldermen.

The coming municipal campaign is likely to prove a spirited one despite the fact that Quincy is the banner temperance city of the state.

Wings have been added to the fancy stone bridge over the brook on Bigelow street.

Mr. George T. Waldron is about to remove to the neat little cottage house on Hancock street, recently vacated by Mr. Emery E. Fellows.

The hearing in Weymouth to the Quincy & Boston street railway, for additional locations, will be held Nov. 28 instead of Nov. 14.

People are anxiously waiting to see where the Republican and Democratic parties got their money for the recent election and how it was spent.

Rev. Mr. Cotton informs us that he will definitely accept any nomination for school committee, as other laborers will prevent him attending to its duties.

The Odd Fellows are considering the advisability of making the encampment term annual instead of semi-annual. Each encampment will take a vote in December.

Postmaster Adams is ever-alert to improve the mail service of the city and has added a new mail at 5.15 P. M., direct to New York state and the West. It will be appreciated.

It will be seen by advertisement that of the Granite Manufacturer's association of Quincy, has extended the time of receiving monumental designs for the Columbian exhibition to Nov. 25.

A troublesome bull which a man was taking to Boston on a cart Monday became ferocious near Merry Mount park and the men thought best to shoot him. Four shots were required.

Although there is some talk that a McElroy man will be our next postmaster, it is pretty well known that the man who has Josiah Quincy's name on his petition will be the lucky individual.

The reward offered by Mayor Fairbanks for the detection of fire bugs had the effect to check incendiary fires, and will now look out for persons ringing in false alarms, to be as successful.

Inventories on the estates of the late Edward Hewitson of Wollaston and Ellen Connor of Quincy were filed at Dedham court Wednesday. The account of Catherine Maycroft, executrix of the will of Richard Raycroft was allowed.

The Peacock's society gave a warm welcome to the large number that filled the pews of the Corner church on Wednesday, and the members felt that their efforts to provide a good evening's entertainment were appreciated.

The book carnival was first upon the programme and in charge of Mrs. F. E. Drake and Miss Margaret Thomas. The titles of some thirty books were represented.

Following this an entertainment was given by the Peake Sisters, made up of the members of a king of King's Daughters from the Congregational church in the centre. Miss Anna Elliott was leader and her able assistants were: Misses Pearl Elliott, Minnie Litchfield, Hattie Sargent, M. E. Fish, Hattie Ray, Josie Miller, May Merrill, Edith Gray, Josie Mitchell and Leila Edwards.

Comical Kitchen presented resolutions at length expressing the unqualified disapproval of the method adopted by administrative officers in paying bills in the Water department, and declaring the conference held as an infringement on the duties of the Council.

He moved the adoption of the resolutions, and in support said he had caused the investigation to be made because of rumors and in the interests of good government. He disclaimed any personal motive. It was only imagination of some that censure was intended. He did not desire to censure anyone. He then re-

"Castoria is the remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of various quack nostrums, and not dooming them to the fate of foaming opium, morphine, soothng syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

The Land of Dreams.

The twilight deepens, the shadows creep,
The moonlight curtains in silvery beams,
And silent we step in the land of sleep,
And drift to the shadowy land of dreams.

Of mystic land where the dead return,
And warn us of the world to come.

Our Navy.

The proposal to change the color of the vessels of the United States Navy has served to bring out the information that the new cruisers were painted white, not as a fancy, but for reasons of health and comfort. The traditional black, it was found, absorbed heat uncomfortably, while the white hulls were ten or twelve per cent cooler outside during summer when the sun is highest. This is what was stated, was the reason why white was chosen as the color of the new vessels. It also had the merit of pleasing the popular taste, and the "white squadron" has been admired as much for this novelty as for any of its special features. The original order, in selecting white for the hull outside and for all paint work on the inside, prescribed that the masts, yards, heads, booms, dabbings of masts and funnels, should be of a straw yellow. It is now proposed to substitute lead-color for white, as being better adapted for service in war time because it rends the vessels less conspicuously.

In accordance with their plan, usage, I hereby, with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, current, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise.

Let us on that day, in forms most congenial to conscience, thank and love, at our alters and our firesides, our God, our Country and our home, that in our thanksgiving and in our happy life, lift us in thanksgiving and praise to God for all His blessing, goodness and tender mercies to our nation, commonwealth and people.

As our hearts go forth in joy and thanksgiving, let us ever remember, alike in the church and the home, that our gratitude and our homage to God are never so pleasing as when they ascend to His throne grant with the holy incense of a charity and love that recognizes every human being.

In a private hotel the girl who does the chamber work answers the bell, runs stairs, blacks the boots, gets $8 a year and board, but lodges away the other three for the former.

The Land of Dreams.

The number of freight cars in use on the various roads in the United States is estimated to be 1,200,000. From 120,000 to 140,000 new cars are reported annually, to take the place of those that become worn out.

More divances are granted annually in the United States than in the rest of the civilized world. The divorce statistics show that in two out of every three cases of divorce the legal separation is sought by the woman. From this it may be inferred that women are more difficult to please, or that the men give greater cause for divorce proceedings.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, NOV. 26, 1892.

Y. Men's Christian Association.

There was a large attendance of young men and visitors at the room Thanksgiving day.

"Scenes and Results of a Night of Disruption" will be the subject of Rev. W. Silcox's address at the men's meeting Sunday at 2.30.

The bare and hounds' chase Thanksgiving morning resulted disastrously for the hares, Messrs. Merritt and Donovan. They started at 9.16, and headed for East Milton. Five minutes later the hounds started on their trail. In less than ten minutes they had tracked the hares into a swamp, where the Messrs. Sampson and Spear touched them. With the supposition that a simple touch did not constitute a catch, Donovan escaped across the swamp and continued the run alone, over the mountain and through the woods, home, making the run in about one hour and ten minutes.

In the meantime the hounds had returned home, having been gone but nine minutes.

The services on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon were of unusual interest. The past two weeks have marked an increased interest in the spiritual work of the association. There is urgent demand for a workers' training class, and these will be organized immediately. Rev. W. S. Thompson of the Quincy Point church, will deliver the address next Sunday afternoon.

The young men's congress promises to be one of the most attractive features of the work of the association. The young men who are working it up are thoroughly interested, and the congress will contain in its membership some of the ablest young professional men in the city. It will probably be organized immediately after the city election. Look out for the announcement.

Rob Roy.

Seldom is there seen in Hancock hall, as large an audience as assembled there Wednesday evening, when Rob Roy, "And Lang Syne," was presented under the direction of Mr. McGregor, No. 5, S. C. Every seat was taken and many were obliged to stand, but this did not prevent frequent applause of their favorites.

The cast as a whole was a strong one, particularly Miss Agnes Hyde as Helen McGregor. Miss Hyde had evidently given her part careful study for her execution was faultless, her voice is strong, her gestures graceful, being free from the affectiveness so common on the amateur stage. Another character that should receive special mention was that of Peter Kerr, as Rob Roy McGregor, the outlaw, who was a noble specimen of a Scotch gentleman. The characters of Sir John, Sir Charles, Verney, and the like, were well done.

Miss Berrie Turner is a special feature.

Henry C. Gifford spent the first of the week at Providence.

Mrs. A. S. Lord and daughter, Eliza, of Lynn, are the guests of Mrs. Albert Turner of Crescent street.

Quincy loses another of its best teachers this week, Miss Gardner of the Willard school, who goes to New Haven.

School Decorations.

As a result of a determination made months ago Mr. Correll has, after much study, taken the master's room in the school house at Wollaston, and at considerable expense, embellished it with various works of art and beauty.

On motion of Fred F. Green, William A. Hodges and George C. Cahill were appointed to the school board.

The pictures are what are known as "Solar enlargements" being made to order from small photographs, and so large that everyone in the school room can easily see the details of the picture. As any picture can be reproduced in this way it will be seen that the range of subjects is as wide as the accumulated pictures of the world.

The title work is composed of thirty-three tiles, 6x6 inches, so grouped that the colors are in harmony and the effect very pleasing.

The busts are in ivory white and not liable to be soiled by dust. The stained glass is made by Edwin Ford of Boston who, as a friend of Mr. Ross Turner, the artist, is especially interested in school decorations. This work fills a window 15x22 inches. In the center is a picture of the Plymouth rock around which are the words Plymouth and Mayflower. The glass in the background has pictures of Puritan hats and swords.

It is hoped the work of decorating our School houses will receive a stimulus from the admirable work which Mr. Correll has done and that our citizens will show their appreciation by visiting the school room and contributing works of art for the remaining rooms in the building.

Mr. Hodges in substance said, he should be less than human if he felt otherwise than that he had done his duty in the convention. It is more than twenty years since he was nominated for office in Quincy, and during all these years to retain the confidence so long was gratifying. One year ago our friends, the enemies, saw fit to make a bitter personal attack, led by one of their most active members.

He did not care much about it; he had been known in Norfolk county for forty-five years and if he had not established a character, proof against such an attack, it was time to step out. One of the statements made was that he had been weighed in the balance and found wanting, but the action tonight is evidence that the Democrats of Quincy do not endorse the statements. Another statement was that he was the author of one of the greatest reforms. This is false.

He did not wish to do the writer injustice but his brain was such that he was a Democrat was thoroughly bad. His idea was that he was but one reformer and that he was the man. Mr. Hodges said he considered the attack too ridiculous to reply to. The coming campaign is to be no picnic; it means hard work and with that we shall end with victory. I accept the nomination and ask you to accept my thanks.

The committee who had retired came in after a lapse of nearly an hour and reported the following list of nominations, which was accepted and adopted.

School committee at large for three years—Dr. Joseph M. Sheldon.

Commission at large—S. A. Duffield, W. H. Warner, F. W. Folson, Charles T. Baker and Edmund Fope.

L. and D. Society.

The regular meeting of the Quincy Literary and Debating society was held on Saturday evening, in Dibble's hall. Mr. Alex. Craig, president, in the chair. The business for the evening was an essay on "some aspects of the labor question in America," by Mr. A. Grassack.

On late years the labor question has assumed a more prominent place in our politics, and the discussion of its various aspects has been a source of much interest and discussion.

Each one is endowed with a common nature that has such a marvellous power of adaptation, that although there may be endless unity among mankind the result is a perfect variety. Thus existence, with this wonderful God-given nature, is the riches of blessings. In spite of his sinfulness man enjoys vastly more than he suffers. If this were not true existence could not be maintained.

For the blessings of our manhood and womanhood, our richly endowed common nature, we should thank God with fervent gratitude. Grateful for these natures we should also thank the four great powers that have been created to maintain and protect our common nature.

Not that we may be angels, but Christian men and women. That men may dwell together, bound by ties of kindred and friendship is another source of gratitude. The common sympathy exhibited in these communities is another blessing.

It is the common nature of man that the party of progress in municipal improvements.

It believes that the city can be and should be the center of all municipal activities.

It is the common nature of man that he should exert such legislation as will promote its interests and contribute to the comfort and welfare of its citizens.

It is the common nature of man that he should be a leader in the movement of improvement of his surroundings, and I believe that today our streets will compare favorably with those of any other city in the state.

I have believed Mr. Chairman, that the will of the people expressed at the polls, the City Council, and the Board of Aldermen, and the Board of Education, stop in the experience of establishing a nightly patrol, and should it be established, I hope that the citizens will be satisfied.

I have also realized Mr. Chairman, the demands of the citizens that a portion of the tax levy should be expended in a police force, and the experience of the last six months has shown the wisdom of establishing a nightly patrol, and I hope that the citizens will be satisfied.

I have also realized Mr. Chairman, that as the citizens decided that the ownership of the water works should be vested in the city, it was my duty to favor such a measure, and I hope that the city will be able to realize the heights of bliss to which by obedience he can attain.

This season, therefore, should inspire us with thankful hearts for existence. In all its varying forms of humanity it is a source of joy and an occasion for thanksgiving.

It is appropriate that a day set apart in which we can express this feeling. The social and domestic greetings of the day are also of priceless value. But the day has a deeper meaning than a well-filled table and social festivities. The hand and purse should be open to the calls of charity.

Those who have faithfully served should be remembered.

A Patriotic Festival.

The purchase by Mr. James H. Carlton of the Whittier homestead, with the purpose of preserving it as a public memorial, is a patriotic act, and reminds us again of the old Adams houses in Quincy. The intention of Mr. Carlton, it is said, is to present the homestead to the city of Haverhill, to be held under such conditions as shall insure its preservation and maintenance.

Two sisters who had not seen each other for thirty-nine years met in Portland the other day. They were born in Ireland and came to this country as refugees of the second generation. Children on their part did not believe that the grandparents who spoil them could ever have said "No" with the readiness and ease with which monosyllables are uttered by father and mother. Around the table and by the hearth reminiscences are in order, and the quickly responsive laughter proves the instant joy.

The home happy scenes are the rule. Grandparents寿 with proud complacency the features of their grandchildren.

Saturna's meeting was attended by ex-members, much to the chagrin and disappointment of the sympathetic mechanicians, who turned aside. Their wives, however, were not to be outdone, and the women of the house were as busy as the men.

History of Quincy.

In his centennial address, delivered last Independence day, Mr. Charles Francis Adams said he would not dwell much in detail upon the history of Quincy, but that he would soon put into the hands of the people all he had to say on that subject. This he has recently done, and it turns out to be an account of old Braintree and Quincy which is short, thorough, and full of valuable philosophical treatment is unique among town histories. The work is in two volumes and is entitled, "Three episodes in Massachusetts History." Fortunately it is for Quincy that it has an historian one who is so scholarly clear sighted, and comprehensive in his reflections as Mr. Adams. For about twenty years he has devoted a very considerable portion of his invaluable time and the strength of a vigorous mind to the study of the planting and growth of the settlements on this south shore. Evidence of his industry has appeared from time to time in magazine articles, in the publication with elaborate notes of Morton's "New English Canaan," in an important article on the history of Braintree, and in other writings. All this seems to have been but preliminary to the production for this his city of a history which should be thorough, full of life, and illustrating the social, political and religious development of its inhabitants.

But if Quincy is fortunate in its historian, Mr. Adams is not less fortunate in his subject. Here in this place has been wrought out the chief problems which have perplexed the people of this entire Commonwealth from the beginning. In sight of our granite hills, tragic events affecting most profoundly the general interests of New England have been enacted, while at the same time the more peaceful development of life in this place has been typical. What other community outside of Boston can afford such abundant material for illustrating great "episodes of Massachusetts History." At the same time, the author's voluminous amount of knowledge and an illustration of the unfolding of principles, customs and institutions which you will seek in vain for in any similar work.

The "Episodes" are "The Settlement of Boston Bay," "The Antinomian Controversy," "A Study of Church and Town Government." From these titles it might be inferred that the work is another of those heavy and dry historical disquisitions. But the moment you turn the leaves and catch sight of the page head lines you realize there is wealth of fascinating reading, and, indeed, anyone who has read much of what Mr. Adams has written knows that above all it is interesting. This is practically true of the "Episodes" and the author's account of the settlement of Boston Bay, and still true to history he has wrought them out with dramatic picturesqueness and force, even the most abstruse element of "Antinomian controversy" have been so melted in his own thought and modernized that they are most intelligible and interesting than the heresy trials now progressing. Everything is made simple, and everywhere there is life and action.

The chapters on the settlement of this and neighboring towns are as absorbing as a book of adventures. Morton of Merrymount Miles Standish, Squanto the Indian, and other worthies lead us into all sorts of situations and heroisms. But to insure that the reader will not be bored, the author will think the "study of church and town Government" deals with such topics as the present. Church life and social life are treated in their development up to these modern times, the transformation of the "Highways" and our modern streets is shown, the town meetings, the public schools, the changes consequent upon immigration, all are treated in a way to hold the attention and to afford much practical instruction. Particularly interesting is the description of men now living among us and the comments upon their public actions. He subjects them to the same historical treatment as he does Morton and Deacon Bass and "Uncle Quincey," and others a history or more dead. Delicions is his cool, mild and even-tempered Mr. H. H. Faxon. One might suppose that, doubtless, for the "funn element" had gone to his reward, and was not still a "living terror" to evil doers.

But we have said enough to indicate the character of this new history of Quincy. In a succeeding issue we shall present some extracts from it. The discerning will do well however, to get the book for themselves and enjoy at first hand its delightful and instructive pages.

Unitarian Church, Wollaston.

On Sunday morning the Rev. W. S. Key will deliver a discourse based on the text, "And God said let there be light and there was light," in the Unitarian church, Wollaston Height. Service at 10:45 o'clock. In the evening at 7 o'clock, the usual vesper service will be held at which the Rev. Hilary Bygrave of Belmont, will deliver an address on "The Survival of the Fittest," when the following selection of vocal music will be included during the service:

"My Faith Looks up to Thee," Goldbeck
"Homeland," Sullivan
"Paring," Hopkins
"Evening Hymn," Chadwick

Men's Christian Association.

"What we owe as Christian Young Men, to our city," will be the subject considered at our Men's meeting at 3:30 Sunday. The following persons have been invited to speak on the subject:

Mr. Fred Litchfield, Mr. Simeon Scamell, Mr. E. W. Branch and Mr. B. F. Thomas. At the close of the meeting two Bible classes will be organized, one a Workmen's Training Class and the other a class for Beginners in the Christian Life.

The address by Rev. W. Sherman Thompson, last Sunday, on "Scenes and Results of a Night of Dissipation" was one of the most stirring talks to young men that has ever been delivered before the Association. Mr. Thompson took his subject from the story of David and Saul. He depicted very vividly the scenes of debauchery that are so common, and plainly showed the terrible results of such dissipation, and warned the young men of drinking, gambling and licentiousness, declaring to them that there was no escape from the truth of the declaration that "the wages of sin is death."

The members of the boy's department have been invited to attend a conference of the Junior Department of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, to be held at Worcester, Saturday, January 21st. It is probably that quite a number will attend, accompanied by General Secretary Colton.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day will come when parents will have a sincere interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, sooting syrup and other hurtful poisons down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, DEC. 10, 1892.

For the Patriot.

By A. E. AUSTIN.

The summer days have passed away,
Only their memory lingers;

The grass, once green, now robed with snow.

By winter's frosty fingers.

Leaves that shone with brightest hues,

One by golden showers.

All scattered lie; no more they fly,

Like bright bairns' o'er the scene,

The earth now clad in whiteness,

The moonbeams soft are stealing;

And stars above that twinkle bright,

God's world great and real.

What else can we do but guide them all,

O'erward in space unbodied?

What else but His could watch them all,

As each their limits rounded?

The flowers that bloomed so brightly,

The fields and woods among,

As all day long the bonnie birds

Their rounds had sung.

Time for all, in season change,

And God's love alone suffice,

We shall see the life eternal,

Summer down in Paradise.

— The Quincy Granite manufacturers intend to make a $10,000 exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago.

— The Hingham and Weymouth bridge is undergoing repairs. The tides have washed away portions of the eastern abutment, which is being rebuilt.

— One day recently the Commonwealth factory in Whitman shipped 2,600 cases of boots and shoes.

— The union tenant school at Walpole, which is supported by three counties, Norfolk being one of them, received its first candidates from Brockton, recently; Charles F. Moroney, 10 years old.

— The Brockton Agricultural Society has held its annual meeting and elected its first board of officers. The exact receipts of the fair this year were $26,434.58. The expenses amounted to $16,341.43. The profits were $10,093.15. The society spent in construction this year $4,650.52.

— The second session of the present Congress began on Monday. It is what is called the short session. It must adjourn on the third of next March to allow the inauguration of President Cleveland. Not a great deal of time is given to the consideration of bills. Congress generally wastes a good deal of time during the Christmas holidays, and the members will hardly be in a mood for the new legislation.

— Mr. Charles Brock of Milton, almost 95 years of age, has voted at 10. Presidential and 73 consecutive gubernatorial elections. At the recent election he voted the straight Republican ticket. He required no aid in preparing his ballot.

— The average weekly influx of apples to Boston markets is about 5000 barrels, 95 per cent of which are Baldwins. Nearly one-third of these apples are shipped from Maine, nearly all of the other two-thirds being supplied from Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. About one-third of the amount are being exported, leaving some 5000 barrels to find a home.

— Burglars seem to have a fondness for the post-office at Randolph. It was robbed one night recently, which is the second time within two years.

— A peculiar last, called the Kentucky L, is a new design at Brockton. It is intended for feet which have a thick tincture. A shoe made on this last is broad, straight and flat, the heel being but one "lift" high. There is a growing call for a shoe of this peculiar shape.

— A Rockland lady started a mite box fund with a cent picked up on the floor of a railway car, and has just added a ten-cent piece that she found in a piece of apple pie.

— The Neponset St. Casting company started their works for the manufacturing of solid steel castings last week in what used to be the Mills Iron Works on Taylor street. The company is running one furnace and expects to employ some twenty-five men.

— The people of Milton and Lower Mills, now have a 12 foot clock in front of Associates building. The dials, of glass, are 30 inches in diameter, and illuminated by electric lamps. It was purchased by popular subscription at a cost of about $600, and is a handsome ornament.

— A Newton, Kan., man recently made a bad mistake. His gun was stolen, and when the third day he recovered it he agreed not to appear against the prisoner on his paying him $15. He was prosecuted for compounding a felony, and his fine and costs amounted to $43.50.

SATURDAY, DEC. 17, 1892.

New Brasee Building.

The new Brasee Building at Wollaston, which was to be dedicated to the uses of the Knights of Honor, Knights and Ladies of Honor and Royal Arch, last evening, is now open to Wollaston from an architectural point of view.

The building, which was designed by Mr. I. Howland Jones and built by Mr. George E. Thomas, was studied from some of the old buildings found in Brittany and Normandy, with their projecting stories and overhanging gables, the small panes of glass set in white sashes in the windows carry out the idea of a quaint old-fashioned building. The whole building, to carry out the architect's ideas, is gabled, and will not be stained, but left to turn a silver gray with the weather.

The first floor of the building is devoted to stores, there being two. The stores at the corner of Brook street and Newport avenue is to be occupied by Mr. Charles B. Sherman, the general manager of the Wollaston Land Company, as an office. This office is 30 by 32, with a private office leading from it, 15 by 10. Both offices are finished in natural wood. The other store is occupied by John Litchfield & Co., grain dealers, and is 80 by 30.

The entrance to the Knights of Honor hall is on Brook street. The entrance hall is 10 by 12, finished in hard pine. The staircase leads from this to the upper hall, from which opens an entry to two dressing rooms, and the staircase to the kitchen, which is in the dressing rooms. Each dressing room is furnished with a set bowl and a toilet room.

The kitchen, which is 15 by 20, is connected with the hall below with a large dumb waiter. The kitchen is supplied with all the culinary conveniences that a chef could want. The small hall with which the kitchen is connected by a dumb waiter is so constructed that it can be screened off and used as a serving room.

The small hall opens directly into the large hall or lounge. This hall is 32 by 45, and is finished with open timber roof, all of the trusses, rafters and boarding being exposed to view and stained to represent old wood. The general idea of the room was suggested by Mr. Charles B. Sherman, and the timbers of their original houses in their big timbers now turned back, age, quite different from the halls in this country where everything is either covered with a smooth white coat of plaster and paint, and where clear boards instead of letting the real construction show with its knots and cracks, and uneven color which is really the most pleasing finish. The walls are plastered and tinted an olive shade.

The floor, which is of rift hard pine blind nailed, is the finest floor in the city. The Wollaston club has secured the hall on account for its subscription parties. The hall has a seating capacity of 325.

The building is lighted throughout by electricity, and heated by steam.

Moyle—McLaughlin.

A quiet and fashionable wedding took place at the residence of Mr. William McLaughlin, No. 18 Payne street. The contracting parties being Mr. John Moyle and Miss Helen McLaughlin. The bride's sister, Mrs. Laura McLaughlin, and her brother Mr. William McLaughlin was best man.

The bride was attired in lavender ottoman silk, cut front in train and trimmed with pearl lace, while in her hair she wore pale pink carnations. The bridesmaid wore a rose trimmed with Valentine lace, made the same as the bride only adorned with white carnations. The bridal party entered the parlor from the sitting room, the bride leaning on her little niece, Miss Mary McLaughlin, who was the maid of honor and was attired in baby blue satin with low neck and lace under sleeves, was carried the train of the bride.

Rev. Mr. Hunt met them under a bower of evergreen and ferns, festooned with lace draperies, and after a few brief remarks of duty of man and wife towards each other and wishing them their blessing proceeded with the ceremony.

After the many congratulations from their friends they sat down to a bountiful collation served by Carter Wiles. After visiting their many friends in the East, Mr. Moyle will take his young and fair bride to their home in California.

Westendarp—Newcomb.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Neck on Thursday evening, at the residence of Mrs. Newcomb, on Howard street.

The contracting parties were Miss Cora A. Newcomb, granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Newcomb, and Mr. Henry W. Westendarp of Wollaston.

The house was prettily decorated with holly and evergreen and the bridal couple stood under an arch of the same.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Norton of Quincy, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of white chintz, trimmed with crepe de chene, and looked exceedingly lovely, and the groom added his share to the attractiveness of the bride.

Miss Rose E. Day, and Miss Mabel Stokes of Dorchester, officiated as ushers. The former was dressed in a gown of light blue alabaster, with steel trimmings, and the latter were black lace and scarlet. Both of these young ladies added much to the grace of the occasion.

Carter Wiles served an excellent supper to the guests. The presents were exceptionally well chosen.

The newly wedded couple left the same evening on a ten day trip, which will include New York and other places of interest. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Westendarp will reside in Lynn, for the present. They have the good wishes of their many friends for a long and happy life.

Reunion of Mountaineers.

At a jolly reunion of Russell House Mountaineers, Wednesday evening at the Parker House, Boston, the following prominent Quincy people were present: President Thompson of the City Council and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Foster, Mr. John Shaw, Mr. Rufus Foster, Miss Foster and Miss Leila C. Ordway. The gathering consisted of some forty-five sojourners at North Woodstock, N. H., this fall. Mr. Joshua Prentiss of Wakefield was present on Wednesday evening, by the degree staff of Anna Lodge, No. 96, Daughters of Rebekah, at her residence, South Braintree. During the evening Mrs. Foster was presented with an emerald ring from the club, presented speech being made by Mrs. Charles Nichols.

Among toasts responded to were "For entry" by Mr. James Thompson; "Snaphats" by Miss Ordway, and the customary good-natured remarks that usually follows the rising of Messrs. Tisdale and Foster upon a post-prandial occasion. Purchased of Beverly Farms responded to the toast of "The Ladies."

Representations were present from Boston, Cambridge, Wakefield, Beverly, Fall River, and there is added to the list of White Mountain tourists another gathering of those who had pleasure in mid-winter reminiscences of the beauties and grandeur of the Penitentiary Valley.

Plumbing Ordinance.

The city council at a meeting Monday evening passed a plumbing ordinance by an unanimous vote. It places all plumbing under the inspection of city officials and requires that it shall be done with good material.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, DEC. 24, 1892.

Merry Christmas.

Tomorrow is Christmas day and we extend to all of friends and readers kind wishes for a good share of the season's joys. Christmas is a time for good wishes and kindly feelings, good cheer and charitable deeds; it is a season for gift making and the best of all it is the children's day; how the little ones half the glad Christmas when old Santa Claus makes their little hearts happy. How their hearts beat with joyous expectation as they gather around the Christmas tree, anxiously waiting to receive the testimonial of love that has been hung there, and their faces are wreathed in smiles when their names are called. And the children's delight is that your hearts might never know tribulations and sorrow. May the next Christmas find us all enjoying bright pictures which have been hung on memory's wall. May they be golden in love, golden in peace, and golden in the fruit that will inspire a blast hereafter.

May those who are prosperous today find pleasure not only in their children's joys, but also in making others less favored than themselves share in their bounty.

And so dear friends, one and all, let us strive to make Christmas a season of joy and gladness to ourselves and all around us.

Let us aim to make it typical of the Eternal Christmas which for many of us must dawn are the denizens of earth ring in the Christmas of another year.

Death of T. P. Baxter.

We have received from a friend a copy of the Santa Rosa (California) Republican. In it we notice the death of a Quincy boy, who has for years made his home in California. He was the son of the late James Baxter, who resided for a great many years at Attleboro, and was a brother of Mr. Dewson, and a brother of Mrs. Horace Eaton, The Republican says:

"Mr. Baxter's death was due to the giving way of a tumor of the brain, which had afflicted him for some time. For two hours before dissolution came he was unconscious and the end came without pain."

"Mr. Baxter was known in Santa Rosa that it is unnecessary to add many words of the biography. He was born in Massachusetts and was sixty-four years of age at the time of his death. He lived in Santa Rosa many years and most of the time he was engaged in the hardware business. The past few years he was associated with his son-in-law, Mr. Alex West, in the Davis block on Fourth street. His many virtues were well-known and made him of friends. Possessed of a genial disposition, his countenance was always cheery, and his lips had a pleasant word for everybody. Besides his beloved wife, he leaves a son, Walter Baxter, of Napa, and a daughter, Mrs. Alex Westrup, of this city. It is hardly necessary for us to say that in the hours of their great bereavement they have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends."

"Mr. Baxter was an esteemed member of the Masonic order and a right Templar. He was Past Commander of Santa Rosa Lodge No. 34, and the lodges and rites were held under that organization's auspices Wednesday afternoon. A good man has gone. Peace to his ashes, and kindly recollections of his excellent qualities will be his most enduring monument."

HANDSOME PRESENTS.

Until a few days ago when the richness and immensity of resources of Japan were opened to the eyes of more advanced and progressive countries the products of that nation were extremely rare. Only in museums and rare collections could such products be seen.

This is all changed. With the advent of European and American enlightenment in the land of the Mikados the handiwork of Japanese artisans now see the light of day in almost every city in Christendom, and nowhere is the beauty or utility of these articles more valued than in America. Owning to the low price of skilled labor, the Japanese articles of domestic use are now rare and rare finds until now there is scarcely a household but what has one or more specimens of the handiwork of Japanese artisans.

Our readers will find at Walter M. Hatch & Co.'s store 54 Summer street, Boston, a very large stock, to which it does one pleasure to examine if no purchases are made.

Banquet.

A complimentary banquet was tendered last evening to Eliza S. Draper, chairman of the Republican State Committee, at the American House, Boston. The occasion was expressive of a full appreciation of the earnest effort of Mr. Draper in behalf of Republican success during the past year, and of the high regard in which he is held. ABRAHAM LINCOLN

When leaving home at Springfield, Ill., Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, made a farewell address to his old friends and neighbors, in which he said, "I have given you a chance."

These words, with as much force as to day as they did thirteen years ago.

How often have these words been a great spur and warning to young and sturdy friends to come and develop it and "grow up with the country." How often have the young, the boys, the lads, the lasses, the lasses, to better their condition and get on.

Here is the chance referred to, as the New Englanders say, "to make good."

How can you do anything but make good, pretty much anything you want. In Minnesota and in the Red River Valley of North Dakota, wheat and corn are raised, and wheat and grain, as well as diversified farming. In Western North Dakota and Montana, the grain is raised to a great extent, clothed with the most nutritious of grasses.

If a fruit farming region is wanted, there is no place like the state of Washington to select from.

As for the Northern Pacific Railroad, it has a great empire waiting for you and sturdy friends to come and develop it and "grow up with the country." How often have the young, the boys, the lads, the lasses, to better their condition and get on.

For the country referred to, as the New Englanders say, "to make good."
